Mexican Arrested Resembles Man Once Charged With Murder.

Juan Ornate, alleged to be Juan Ornate Rodriguez, wanted at one time for the murder of a man named French John, on the site of the present union station, was arrested Saturday night and a charge of drunkenness decketed against him. Upon being arraigned in court Monday afternoon he was fined $3 on the charge. Detective Harold and policeman Cooper say he is Roiriguez, who was wanted for the murder and who disappeared from El Paso 18 years ago, immediately after the killing, but he is being held merely on a charge of drunkenness, as the charge of murder against him was dismissed in 1894. Deputy sheriff Ed Bryant says that on May 16 Ornate sold a mule to John Brazel. The latter called in Bryant to find out if the sale would be perfeetly proper and Bryant said he did not know as he was aware of the reputation of the man, who then told him that for eight years he had made his home on a ranch in Presidio county. However, Ornate declared that he had raised the animal himself and a bill sale was made out and attested be-

Dismissed for Lack at Evidence. Bryant says that at that time he knew the man to be Rodriguez, and investigated the old case, finding that it was dismissed in 1894 because of lack of evidence, so Bryant allowed

On December 6, 1894, O. A. Larrazola, who was at that time district attorney, had the case dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence. I have told the clent evidence to hold the man, to do so. However, it seems that if sufficlent evidence could not be obtained two years after the killing, we cannot hope to secure enough evidence now, 18 years after the commission of the deed."

The police state that the only charge against Ornate or Rodriguez, which ever he may be, is one of drunkenness on which he has been fined $3 and which he is serving out in jail.

that he then hired four men to lure French John to a lonely spot and murder him, it being required of the nesassins that they produce one of the ears of the dead man as evidence that they had done away with bim. French John came to town, and he was warned by friends that his life was being sought. However, he paid no attention to this advice and, while in his cups was lured to the lonely spot near (se place where the union station now stands. There he was murdered and his body thrown into the ake after one of his ears had been severed from his body. The body was ater found and identified as that of the Frenchman. Rodriguez, on his way to Ysleta, stopped over night with a Mexican friend, and, it was said, showed him the ear. Later, this man, hearing of the finding of French John's body, told what he knew, and Rodriguez was indicted, but the witness later left and Rodriguez escaped and is believed to
